

LASER ENERGETIC DETOXIFICATION (LED)

Laser Energetic Detoxification (LED) is a rapid detoxification therapy effective in resolving toxins, allergens, auto immunity and infections as the causes of acute and chronic diseases. This Seminar will teach how evaluative kinesiology and related energetic techniques (EDS, etc) can be used to identify causes of disease (microbiological, biochemical, quantum physical, etc.) and precisely predict the optimum treatments (including LED) to resolve each cause in any individual patient. Participants will learn how to quickly and gently release toxins using a low powered cold laser application of homeopathically diluted toxins. The course will teach how to identify specific toxins as a cause of autoimmunity to organs, glands, hormones, neurotransmitters and how to resolve the autoimmunity with LED thus resolving symptoms of chronic fatigue, insomnia, brain fog, obesity, chronic pain, etc. Those who wish to be certified will be asked to demonstrate their newly acquired skills through a written and practical oral exam.

This seminar is open to Health Professionals and their Technical Assistants. Basic skill in evaluative kinesiology or electro-dermal screening is necessary.
